3 November 1969

The Honorable Robert F. Froehike
Assistant Secretary of Defense
for Administration
Room 3E 822
The Pentagon

Dear Bob:

I am forwarding a copy of the study which we have just completed on the relative effectiveness of ABM collectors. This study was initiated in 1967 at the request of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget. All of the addressees of the covering letter which I have written, disseminating this report, were asked at the time to contribute to the development of this study. For this reason I am now asking them officially for their comments.

As you will note from the enclosed covering letter, I believe that this study should be submitted to the National Intelligence Resources Board for consideration concerning the suitability of the methodology which it proposes for the evaluation of intelligence resources and activities. Presumably the Board would wish to have the benefit of comments from the various contributors to the study before any final action. I believe, however, that it would be helpful to have an early presentation from [REDACTED] summarizing the essential points in the study which he tells me can be done in twenty minutes. I hope that this can be done at the meeting scheduled for 12 November.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

/s/ John A. Bross
